Description:	DC Power Supply for FX9600: Launch Announcement
Reason for Change:	PMB-10401: Announcing the Launch of DC Power Supply for FX9600

1. Introduction

As Zebra continues to see RFID adoption grow outside of the retail space and move to more manufacturing and T&L applications, we want to be at the forefront enabling our partners and customers to use our products in new use cases that can help drive increased automation and efficiency. Thus, we are proud to announce a new DC power supply that allows for the FX9600 fixed RFID reader to be powered via a forklift or other vehicle battery.

The DC power supply for the FX9600 supports input voltage between 9 – 60V and supplies the reader with 12V output from the power supply.

This DC power supply is supported on all 4-port configurations of the FX9600.
